

ONTARIO, CANADA: THE HUB FOR TOMORROW'S ELECTRIC VEHICLES

In 2022, electric vehicles accounted for 10 million units sold, and that figure is predicted to reach 31.1 million by 2030. By 2040, EVs will make up more than half of all passenger vehicle sales.

In Ontario, Canada, we get cars. We've been in the business of producing some of the world's best vehicles for over 100 years. Now it's time to take our foot off the gas—literally.

HERE ARE THE TOP FIVE REASONS WHY ONTARIO IS A DRIVING FORCE IN EV PRODUCTION

1. HOME TO AUTOMOTIVE POWERHOUSES

$25B in new auto investments

Including nearly $20B in electric vehicle and EV battery investments

$398M Other Investments

$470M Magna

$1.4B Honda

$1.5B Umicore

$1.8B ArcelorMittal Dofasco

$1.8B Ford

$2.2B General Motors

$3.6B Stellantis

$5B NextStar Energy Inc.

$7B Volkswagen

2. ACCESS TO AN ABUNDANCE OF CRITICAL MATERIALS

Ontario is a mining powerhouse. At the top of the list of naturally occurring minerals in Ontario are graphite, lithium, nickel and cobalt—all crucial raw materials in the production of batteries for EVs.

3. AN END-TO-END, ETHICAL SUPPLY CHAIN

The province's automotive supply chain consists of over 700 parts suppliers. Additionally, we boast over 90% emissions-free electricity, which helps companies meet their sustainability goals.

4. A CULTURE OF INNOVATION

We're leaders in automotive talent. Ontario's automotive industry today employs approximately 100,000 people. Not only will Ontario likely see an increase in production, but it will also find itself at the cutting edge of an industry ripe for new innovations. And with 408,000 highly skilled tech workers calling Ontario home, the talent is here to make that happen.

5. GOVERNMENT SUPPORT

The Canadian and Ontario governments have invested billions in cutting-edge vehicle manufacturing and clean energy projects. The province has also committed $56.4 million to the Ontario Vehicle Innovation Network to accelerate electric driving development in the province.
