

YOUR ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE PARTNER

Artificial intelligence (AI) is poised to impact our everyday lives as much as electricity did more than a century ago. The idea of designing cognitive technologies have evolved, and embracing this transformational technology is vital for businesses to remain competitive. Ontario is home to Geoffrey Hinton, the “godfather of AI” and recent Nobel winner, whose groundbreaking work continues to shape the future of this field. Companies large and small are coming to Ontario—home to the world-renowned Vector Institute and Toronto-Waterloo’s booming hub with the highest concentration of AI startups globally—to harness this technology to uncover solutions to problems once thought impossible.
